TA sections are assigned on Slack

- Please reach out and say hi! Share a meme. Complain about the class. (Although I'm also in the group... so beware).
- This TA is in charge of grading you.
- If you have a question too specific or personal for the Ed Board, please ask your TA first.
- Your TA will provide "continuity of care."
- Your TA is your mentor. Their feedback will dictate your project grade.
- 3 of the students in your section will be your groupmates. Start making friends now!
- If you have been admitted to this class after Monday morning - you might not have a TA group yet. You'll just have to wait for now. We'll do another round of assignments after the class adjustment period (Friday).

Why do we have TA sections?

- Individual Mentorship improves education by 2 standard deviations.
  - Mentors can help you "debug" the way you're thinking about problems to help you get faster and better at design and programming.
- Humans are social learners.
  - We learn behaviors, habits, mental models by observing other people.
    - (Not from reading lecture slides!)
  - We learn best when we feel understood by others.
- Common complain – "I don't know anyone in this class"
  - Now you'll know 25 other people at least.

No private homework questions on Ed.

- We won't answer private Ed questions.
- Because we can't answer the same question 550 times.
- If you have a specific or private issue, contact your TA on slack!

Switching Sections

- If you want to switch sections,
  - put yourself on the waitlist of the section you want to be in.
  - Email Lydia your reason.
  - I'll decide by Friday (add/drop date).
- It's a huge pain to move people around, so I will only do this for people with a legit reason.

WEEKLY SCHEDULE

Monday, Wednesday

4:10–5:25pm

IAB 417

Desu

- Senior in CC majoring in CS
- Previously took and TA'ed for Professor Brian Smith's UI course; I have also TA'ed for 1004 and 3134 since sophomore year
- I've interned as a software engineer (frontend, design, ux) in fintech and bigtech so let me know if you need advice or resources!
- Fun Facts:
  - Grew up in Louisiana, Georgia, and Florida (Yes, I say "y'all" unironically)
  - Big movie/show fanatic – I've seen movies that have yet to be released and I always know the inside scoop on The Bachelor series drama
  - Timothée Chalamet is my favorite human besides my mom
- Stoked to be TAing for this class and can't wait to support y'all!

Audrey

- Senior in CC studying CS and German (don't really know how that happened)
- previously took Prof. Smith's section and really enjoyed learning how to approach human-centered design
- I can't wait to meet and work with everyone!

SWAPNIL

- Second Year Grad student at SEAS pursuing MS CS (Software Systems Track)
- I took UI Design in spring 2021, LOVED IT!!!
- I have a granted patent and I am working on my own startup (I don't want a stable life :-P), so if anyone wants to talk about startups, MVP, Patents, etc., feel free to ping me.
- I have binge-watched Peaky Blinders like 100 times, and I can do a 101 if you need a company.
- Something random: Lydia is too cool to be a professor (You can say anything in her class), but warm up assignments are not so cool. However, you will feel good about them halfway through the semester.

Sarah Huang

- Senior at Barnard majoring in CS
- Took UI Design (Spring 2020) and Advanced Web Design Studio (Fall 2021) with Lydia!
- Interests lie in UI/UX design, HCI, and frontend research
- Worked in HCI/frontend research over the past two summers, co-authored a paper with one of Lydia's grad students + undergrads
- Hobbies: learning languages, horror movies, currently watching Fleabag, reading
- Can't wait to meet everyone! :)

Casey

- MS CS Student
- Took UI Design Fall '21 with Professor Brian Smith and loved the material
- I am originally from California and did my undergrad at UCLA

It strove to combine aesthetics with everyday function.”

The Bauhaus School of Design helped give rise to asymmetric grid layouts.

Grids layouts help you convey importance with grouping, location, size, and whitespace.

Twitter Bootstrap is a widely used grid system.

The image displays a Twitter Bootstrap grid layout. At the top is a blue header with the Twitter logo on the left, the text "What's happening?" in the center, and "Sign up" and "Log in" buttons on the right. Below the header is a white navigation bar with a search icon and tabs for "Featured", "Sports", "News", "Music", "Entertainment", "Lifestyle", and "More". The main content area is a grid with four columns. The first column contains a "Moments" section with a tweet about Isaiah Thomas. The second column contains a tweet about Coachella with a festival poster. The third column contains a tweet about a Mattress Firm store with an image of the building. The fourth column is a blue sidebar with a "New to Twitter?" sign-up prompt. Below the grid is a "Featured Tweets" section with three category tabs: "General News", "Sports commentary", and "World News".

Bootstrap allocates width into twelve columns

Responsive design helps you specify the layout for different sized screens

Iterative Style of Programming

helps you build a mental model of your code.

What's the smallest unit of progress I can make?

Does it look ok?

Homework 2: Grids and Layout

Warm up: due Friday 1/28 @ 11:59pm on Courseworks

Main: due Tuesday 2/1 @ 11:59pm on Courseworks.

href="https://stackpath.bootstrapcdn.com/bootstrap/4.2.1/css/bootstrap.min.css" crossorigin="anonymous">

Well, this tinder html was fun but also frustrating, but also rewarding...

Things that look simple can be deceptively hard to make....
